Brenden's sweet and thoughtful disposition was displayed through his kindness and capacity to make everyone feel special. He truly treasured time spent with family and friends. He spent his spare time writing, studying history, playing the drums, attending live music events, playing video games and volunteering for the Kentucky Talking Book Library.

Brenden was a selfless provider, never hesitating to step in and help. A man with a great sense of humor, he enjoyed bringing a smile to someone's face and providing a laugh to his family and friends. A loyal and thoughtful friend and devoted family member, Brenden had an incredibly genuine kindness and sincerity to him that will be the legacy of the life he lived.

He is survived by his loving parents, Dr. James R. "Jim" Sullivan, Jr., and Lori Barker Sullivan; beloved fiancé, Grace Bowers; siblings, Dylan Sullivan and Katie Sullivan; grandmothers, Eunice Meadows and Elizabeth Barker; and best-friend, John Miller. “ Brenden was one of the kindest young men I have ever had the privilege of knowing. I knew him during his adolescent years which are rarely kind to anyone. But even then, he was such a gentleman and an absolute joy to be around. He was hard working, dedicated, and so responsible. He was a friend to all and I always enjoyed both his quiet demeanor and his sense of humor. I am not surprised with all that he accomplished as it was easy to see during adolescence that he would grow into an accomplished and impressive man. I am so saddened by his passing. Condolences to the Sullivan family as I know he will be greatly missed.
