“ Mcgill was always a kind hearted soul and only meant well onto others. Every step he would take was one of faith and his relationship with Jesus and the Lord was well versed. In his life he came to know many people and never did a single one of those any wrong even if they did upon him. Many times he was the voice of reasoning upon my and others struggles through certain times in our lives. I have witnessed his ups and downs. But one can only be there so much as lives progress and distance comes between one and another. I wish I could have been with him and maybe at least could have returned the favor but there again is only so much another can do to influence somebody's choices and life as it is their own to make. Whether right or wrong the choices are made, but when walking the steps on the path of righteousness, those choices are only ones of worldly concern as this vessel will perish and our light will be freed and accepted into our faith.. we will all meet again some lovely day. And it will all be ok until we get to our points of leaving behind this vessel and our loved ones to be with the ones we've already lost. Mcgill I'm going to miss you man. And I'm sorry I couldn't be there for you when you needed it most.. wait on me up there buddy and tell my momma I love her.. goodbye .... ..
