“ I met Aaron at church a couple of months ago. He would always sit near or beside the family and was always so friendly. Aaron was so kind and often shared that he had a desire to be closer to Christ. I also saw him at his work place a few times and was very pleased to introduce him to my son, Adam. They are the same age. I know there is a special place in Heaven for Aaron and that he's in the comfort and care of our Lord and Savior. Prayers and condolences go to Aaron's family and loved at this difficult time. Aaron was such a kind and loving soul and will be missed by our church family.

“ My condolences to the family of Aaron Brown. Losing a child, no matter what age, is a horrible experience. While I didn't know Aaron personally, I believe his father, Les, was in my 4th grade class at Hearn Elementary. My prayers are with the family and friends. Sincerely, Patty Yeast.

“ You weren’t just another coworker, you were my friend.

We loved picking on each other, getting on each other nerves, and cutting up. You did stuff purposely that you knew would aggravate me, but it made it you laugh.

You would come back to work on Mondays telling everyone how your weekend went with your family, and how you made a massive amount of apple butter, to which you shared with us. You absolutely loved your family and it showed by all the stories you shared with me.

When it would be pouring the rain, I’d give you rides to and from work. When you were in a lot of pain from your neck, i took you to the hospital, because that’s what good friends do for each other.

You taught me how to take care of my aloe plant and I’d send you updates when it started growing like crazy and you celebrated with me.

We had a lot of long conversations to where we knew a lot about each other that most people don’t know. You were always so open with me with sharing your story.

When i told you that I got the job as assistant general manager, you said “That’s amazing! I’m so proud of you and I’m happy for you!”

I’ll miss surprising you with random Milky Ways and hearing your loud laugh at work.

When you shared with me that you started going back to church, it made me so happy. I encouraged you to keep going and you would share what you learned in Sunday school and church with me and we would have long conversations about what you learned.

I remember the first day you started, you startled me because I just seen this tall guy walking towards me when I was going into the cash office. But I got you back a couple days later when i said “it was nice knowing you” after being called into the GMs office and making you think you were fired. Poor fella, you started taking off your earpiece and name badge.

We grew close in just a short 5 months but I’m blessed to have known you. You encouraged me, laughed with me, cried with me, and became my friend. I will miss you. I’ll see you in Heaven and I’ll have a Milky Way in my hand to give you.

“ He was one of my best friends in high school, through baseball and college years. We talked about everything. He literally made me laugh and smile every day that I knew him and he always had such positive things to say about what I was going through. I can’t believe that we are saying goodbye just such a sweet soul. I love you Aaron and I hope you know how much you were loved,

“ I have many memories of Aaron. I started babysitting him when he was around 6 months old until he no longer needed a babysitter. He was like a son to me. I love him so much. Anyway he was very active child. He used to love to pick on Mackenzie who I babysat since she was 6 months old, and she would give him as much as he could dish out. Aaron was like a little brother to my children, Den and Delissa. He loved to get into their things in their rooms, especially Den's room.
Aaron will always hold a special place in my heart.
Love you always Aaron!

Aaron ... we use to call him Brownie when he was little ... was a friend to my son and our family since he was a little boy. We are so saddened by his much too early death. Rest in peace Brownie.
