“ So sorry for your loss. I am truly sorry that I was unable to attend the funeral but my thoughts and prayers were with you. Let me know if there is anything I can do to help in this time. I know it will take time to grieve over the loss of such a beautiful daughter. She was lucky to have you as a dad and you were blessed to have her. I pray God's comfort for you in the days ahead.

“ To Alexis's family and Friends:

May God comfort and guide you, may he take you in his loving arms during your time of sorrow. I know this is the time when your faith is tested and the unanswerable question is asked, WHY? One day this question will be answered. God had his reason for needing Alexis as an ANGEL. Alexis is now a BEAUTIFUL ANGEL in HEAVEN and is watching over all the people who she loved and cared about and those who felt the same about her.

My daughter was a classmate of Alexis and by what I have heard, read on the website started by another classmate. Alexis was VERY much loved and cared about by so many people. I can't even start to imagine what you are going through and honestly, there is really NOTHING I can honestly say that would ease your pain and suffering. I will keep you in my thoughts and prayers.

“ We are so incredibly sorry for your loss and want you to know that your family is in our prayers.

Please know that we do understand what you're going through, as we just lost our 13 year old, Seth, back in August. He too was a member of ACMS.

We can't give you any words of wisdom that will make it any easier - we don't think that's possible - just try to hold on to your faith in God and the knowledge that you will see her again one day.

Please feel free to contact us for anything - we are here for you.

May God bless and keep you.

“ I am so sorry for the loss of your sweet Alexis David. I know she was your world and always had been. She was beautiful and the world has lost another young, talented exceptional little girl. Im sure she would have done many great things in her life that would have made you a proud dad over and over again. She is now smiling and cheering for you as she is looking down at you from Heaven. May God be with you and your family and just know that you are in my thoughts and prayers....Dana “ didnot know Alexis, But knew her father he used to work at Whitehead Plumbing with my son. Please know God will see you thru this impossible hard and devastating time. It seems so many young people are passing, just know she touched and imparted many things to those she came in contact with. I believe she is with GOD as all who believe will someday be reunited with our love ones. GOD bless and keep you in his care the Reginald Allen family.

“ Sweet Alexis...I will miss you and your smile. You have spent so many nights at my house with Tori and you were such a joy to have around. I would like to wish the family of this sweet little girl my sincere condolences, and please if there is anything that you need, let me know, I am here for all of you. God Bless all the loved ones and friends of Alexis, and may God hold you close as you move forward.
