“ So sorry to of Russell's passing. I grew up in Bald Knob not far from his family farm. I also worked with him for several years at the lab. He was such a great guy. I loved sitting and talking with him. He loved going out on Saturday nights to Georgetown to hear the country music. And the lottery. I remember him always carrying a little notebook I'm his shirt pocket with all the past winning numbers. He'd sit down and study those numbers everyday and pick the ones he was gonna play. He always seemed to get them right pretty often. We eventually lost touch after he finally retired although I would think of him often and wonder what he was up to. I'm sure he's in Heaven now with Barbara checking out some of that old country music, singing and dancing and having a big time. Prayers to the family and may God comfort you through this difficult time.
