“ The first time I met Amy was at First Baptist Church many years ago. I recall her standing by the doors going into the Sanctuary on that Sunday morning. She warmly greeted everyone with her wonderful, warm smile while handing out Church bulletins. That smile was so contagious. How fitting that her middle name is Joy. That was her great gift to those lucky enough to meet her. And oh how she loved her beautiful family. As very difficult it is now for you Glenn, Mina, and James our prayer is that you find great comfort in knowing that so many people care deeply and grieve with you. Amy's faith in Jesus has now become sight. Truly you are all surrounded by His love. May you find strength and peace. With our Deepest sympathy, Angie and Gary Scott

“ Thank you for your love, friendship and being like a 2nd mother to Clem, you were truly a joy, delight and an Angel here on earth. Even though we will miss you here on earth we are comforted by the fact we will one day see you in heaven. 🙏

“ I'm so sorry and shocked to hear the news! Prayers to Glenn, the kid and the rest of the family. She was such a positive person and always smiling. We traveled several times together working on projects to improve KY. She has been a great leader and loved working with everyone. She will surely be missed but she will soar higher with the angels and look over all of us. Blessed to know her.

“ I'm very sorry for your loss. Amy loved her family very much and you were always on her mind. There was no conversation in which you weren't included.

Amy was one of the first people that I worked with at KYTC. I remember that we drove together to Owensboro for work one day and she took me to her favorite BBQ place and then a brief stop to see family before going back to work. I always remember Amy's extensive vocabulary. She was the only one that I've known that used the word "flabbergasted" in real life. She was a unique person and I'm sure you'll miss her immensely.

My condolences. Bernadette Dupont

“ My love, my life. There is not any one memory to share because our entire lives together are my memories. Driving from DC to Lexington to meet you for the first time. When you opened the door our eyes met and I swooped in for a hug, there was no doubt in my mind. A couple visits later I told you I was going to marry you and a few months later we were newlyweds. Moving to DC. The prolonged birth of Mina and watching me try to figure out how to work the car seat straps. A chance at a job in California but returning you to the Bluegrass for a career at KYTC. My battle with Cancer. The miracle birth of James after so many losses. Your beaming face at my Baptism. Your retirement. It wasn't always smooth but we finally hit our stride when a big night meant sitting in our comfy chairs and holding hands. Always holding hands. I know God now has another angel and someday we will be together for eternity but for now all I can see is my empty hand... I love you my darling my Joy

“ Aunt Amy was one of the most selfless people I have ever met. Family was a priority to her and she always made sure that everyone felt loved, valued and appreciated. She was a wealth of knowledge and I always enjoyed our in-depth conversations. Aunt Amy was such a dedicated mother and wife to her amazing family. I will always cherish the memories that we created especially breakfast the morning after my wedding and all of the hotel swimming sessions. I will forever miss her positive energy and continue to be inspired by the nurturing, selfless, and carefree person she was. I love you and miss you Aunt Amy!
