“ To Ms. Nancy and family:

I met Austin a few times years ago, and only knew him through my daughter, Aimee. The times I did see him, he always had the biggest smile on his face and very polite. I loved his aura, it exuded a love for life, adventures, and a sense of wanting all around him to be happy. My daughter, Aimee, considered him to be one of the closest people in her life. I'm very, very sorry for your loss of an extraordinary young man. As a mother, my heart is breaking for you. You, Austin's family and friends, have been and will continue to be in my prayers.

“ Dear Family,

The most painful goodbyes are the ones that are never said and never explained, but when precious Austin became a memory; that memory became a beautiful treasure that will be cherished until eternity.

When God brings you to it; He will get you through it.

May God Bless Our Families, Cousin Gloria

“ I am sorry for the loss of your dear son and loved one. Many wonder "will we ever see them again?" The Answer is yes according to Jehovah God and Jesus promise at Acts 24:15. When Jesus was on earth he gave life back to his dear friend Lazarus who had been dead for four days.-John 11:34-44. Where did he resurrect Lazarus? Here on earth. This is the hope that our loved ones have to live again on a changed earth in which the Bible promises all suffering and death will be gone forever.-Revelation 21:4

“ Nancy, I had the pleasure of meeting Austin twice. Both times he was courteous and gave me a smile. We shared a memory about the time you and I were young, and we laughed. He said my Mom is pretty great isn't she. You truly raised a wonderful Angel. I hope your sorry can be consoled by knowing what a wonderful loving and kind person you brought into this world. Sending love, prayers and hugs.

“ Nancy, I wish I could share words of wisdom with you, but the helpful words elude me. I pray that God will keep you and your family in the palm of His hand and comfort you through this sorrowful time. Lean on the Lord, your family, and friends for support.
