“ I went to school with Benny. Thornhill Elementery/ I remember listening to some of his tales about fishing on the KY River, and most of us did not believe him, but later in life when I accidently ran into him, and we talked. I believed him.

“ My sympathy to the family of Benny Dean. My husband, Larry Yeast worked with Benny at Ancient Age Distillery where they became friends. At one point Benny was raising hogs and my husband decided we should raise one too. Benny kept the pig on his farm, fed it, and eventually killed it. My husband was there the day "Piggy" was killed. Then we had it cut up by a butcher. We let Benny keep the parts we didn't want. We were privileged to have Benny as a friend.
