“ Even though Betty was my grandmother she was also a good friend. I could call her no matter what age I was and talk to her. I would normally spend every other weekend at Betty's house when I was younger. Even though Betty could not drive we would always find a way to go shopping. We would shop until I would drop because I could not keep up with Betty. Billy would always fix all of the grandkids home made hamburger and milk shakes. Nobody could make them like Billy. Betty and I would stay up late at night and watch movies, normally Dallas, The love boat, and Fantasy Island. Even when I lived states away I would call Betty and she would normally be watching a movie. Eventhough I interrupted her movie she would stop and catch me up on everything going on in Kentucky. I always wondered when I was little why Betty had plastic rugs everywhere (4 boys and many grandkids). I understand why she did that now that I have 2 boys of my own. Whenever I stayed at Betty's house you could feel all the love there because Betty's boys, daughter in laws, and grandkids were in and out all weekend. I always knew we were safe when I stayed with Betty it seemed like it would take an hour to lock the 2-3 locks on every door and jam each door with a chair every night. It was like we were staying at Fort Knox. I will deeply miss my grandmother and friend but I know she is in a better place with out pain while she is listening to Billy play the guitar.

Love, Bobbie

“ Betty has been such an inspiration in my life. Always accepting and never judgemental. She was a good mother-in-law and someone I could call a friend. I know she loved her family very much and she in turn was loved by many. Without even knowing it, Betty has touched many lives over the years and will be a bright and shining symbol in heaven. She will be missed.

Please accept my deepest regrets.
