“ When I was 16, God blessed me with Brad as my inherited dad. He spoiled his daughters rotten and had the patience of a saint through our teenage years and beyond. He never met a stranger. His laugh was contagious. He had an insatiable appetite for sweets and chocolate anything was his favorite. So many memories flood my heart and mind that I could fill pages and pages and never finish. There will always be one more good memory, and I am very thankful for every single one. I know there were a lot of good people waiting to welcome you to heaven. I bet there was a sweets buffets with chocolate fountains and John Denver was playing Country Road! Rest in peace, Brad Bailey. We love you, Stacy, Doug, & Andrew - and all your friends in GA.
