“ Can't believe I will never see your face again 😭 so heartbreaking and senseless we will never know your mind but I do know enough from your tears that you missed your babies and regretted a lot in your life. Now Tevan will have his own little tears and own little thoughts to forever keep you in his memory. He wanted to see you today just as he has many many times before only this time he wanted to say goodbye...he settled for a mommy pendant to hold near his heart with her cremation remains. "I will miss you mommy" heard loud and clear.
