“ I wish I was able to have a direct talk with the Lord and ask Him how long we have to wait until we can be reunited with all our family and loved ones, because I have written it so many times in my Prayer Journals. He says in His Word that He is coming soon and soon just doesn't seem soon enough when we are grieving for our beloveds. Trust that His promises are true and His love is forever. Charlie is safely in the Arms of Jesus right this very moment and will be there waiting when we are reunited together as a family and we will never be parted again. I believe this with all my heart and pray that your whole family will receive the comfort in the knowledge that the Lord weeps with us when we sorrow. God bless all. Diana

“ David, I wanted to take a moment and write and let you know how saddened I was to hear of your loss. I am a friend of Vickie's. Although, I never met Charlie, I feel like I knew him through the many stories that Vickie would share with me at lunch about his activities and the funny things she said he would do or say. She loved him, and loved sharing his life with those of us that were lucky enough to hear about him. He was a bright shining star his short time on earth and I am sure he is the brightness of all the angels in heaven now.

Pain and loss are unavoidable, but the love and memories of Charlie will surely serve as a salve for the hurt that only time can heal.

Take care, be strong and live in the hope that one day you will see him again.

*Sincerely,

“ A child is such a precious gift and sometimes are only given to us for a short time. During such times we are given such joy and immeasurable riches through them. I search the Bible for words of comfort for the family of Charlie. Jesus made it so clear that children are ever so important to the Lord. When others thought He could not be bothered with the little ones, He rebuked them and said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not: for of such is the Kingdom of God." "And He took them up in His arms, put His hands upon them, and blessed them."

While Charlie enhances the Kingdom of God, may you find comfort in knowing that while we suffer such a great loss here, Charlie will always be smiling as we see here, in heaven. I believe this with all my heart. I do pray the family will receive comfort with love and concern during this, most difficult of times. God bless always.
