“ I worked on Charley’s hall and we became friends. I would get him dressed and up in his chair in the mornings. He started calling me “my Wanda”. Charley, you will be missed. 😞

“ I would go to visit my Uncle Amos and that is how I met Charlie. Even though Charlie had a hard time he would still try to help my Uncle when he got in bad shape. Uncle Amos and Charlie were good friends and a lot of my family became good friends with Charlie. He will be missed..rest high on that mountain now Charlie with Uncle Amos, play and sing together for all eternity. My prayers to the family.

“ My husband and I were part of a ministry that came to the facility where Charlie lived. He would sing and tried so hard to play a full-sized Guitar but couldn’t in his chair. We brought in a “backpacker” guitar so he could play. He was in hog heaven. I am uploading some pictures that we took and could not share due to HIPPA rules.. Charlie was a genuine soul. We loved him big!

“ My Mom lived at Bradford for 9 years before passing. Charlie and I became friends and I saw him daily. I took photos of Charlie and we spent time just talking. He played music for me many times. He even invited me to Essie and Gene’s home for his birthday party and that was much fun. I liked Charlie a lot. He told me of his life in the mountains and the difficulties of mobility. Charlie loved the mountains and always wished he could return. RIP old friend.

“ This picture of Uncle Charley is what I always remembered. I cannot think of anytime when I saw him that he did not have that smile. I remember Uncle Charley sitting on the front porch way back in a hollar in southeastern Kentucky. He was always happy. He had every right to complain, but not once did he ever complain around me. He played his guitar often, sang and would travel around the porch and the house via an old chair. His lower extremities were paralyzed, but he was strong as an ox from the waist up. My daddy Henry, his brother loved him immensely as did his other siblings. God has called a very good man home. I love you Uncle Charley.
