“ Mama, its been almost three years and not a day goes by that you are not heavily on my heart and mind. I love you so much and miss you something terrible. Savannah still talks about you everyday, she misses her Nanny. She is doing an awesome job at letting Brooklyn know who you were. I wish you were still here with us but I know you are not in pain anymore and you are watching over the girls and I. Thank you for raising me to be exactly like you. I love you Mama! Rest Easy until we see eachother again.

“ Your alway's in my heart and mind. The loss of loseing you is still so painful. I know your with your Dad and both of you are in a much better place. I'll see you again one day. Until then save a place for me.

*Love You,
Mom*

“ It will be one month tomorrow since Chris had to leave us. It still hurts to know she is no longer here. I know in my heart that she is well now and no longer hurting and suffering. Even though I live in VA and only saw her and family when they were able to visit her Mom, it was comforting to know that she and those she loved were well and happy in KY. She was a fighter and fought a brave battle. Now it is time for her to enjoy the rest she so richly deserves. Rest in Peace, my one and only precious Niece. I love you. I will remember you always and you will always have a place in my heart.

“ Christine will be missed. I always held her in very high regard. She did alot with her life. She became a Mother and she did that job very well. I only wish I could be as good a person as she turned out to be.
