“ I worked as a nurse with Dorothy at the hospital for many years. A good word to describe Dorothy would be plucky. One of my favorite memories of Dorothy would be when I came back to work after having been off for several weeks. The hospital had started a computer charting system, and it was all Greek to me. I was having a lot of difficulty learning it, and Dorothy was good enough to help me, and teach me to be adept at it. She told me, “ if this old girl can learn it, you can too!”. Dorothy was also a lot of fun, and we would all tease each other often. She had plenty of energy, even though she became a nurse at an older age than most of us. She talked frequently and proudly of her family, and I will never forget how determined she was to preserve her husband’s health. To her family, I would say I am so sorry Dorothy is still not physically getting herself and her loved ones through life, but I think we will all remember her spirit.

“ I remember visiting Aunt Dorothy & Uncle Roy & my cousins when they lived on top of Henry street in thorn hill back when i was a kid. we would go over there & watch tv b4 we got one. some of the shows we watched was the Untouchables with Elliot Ness fighting gangsters in Chicago, Rawhide, Wagon Train & Have gun will travel, all westerns. I remember that silver tinsel Christmas tree with the revolving 3 color light they had, so amazing. Aunt Dorothy had beautiful long hair back then & one time she bent over & pulled all that hair over her face & came at me, I screamed like a lil girl lol when we'd get ready to leave Her & mom would stand at the door & talk for another 15-20 minutes b4 we'd go.
I remember staying at y'all's house out on Qwenton road for a week, helping Aunt Dorothy pick tomatoes to sell to the ketchup factories bk in the late 60's. we kept little salt shakers in our pockets & ate tomatoes while we picked them that's a great picture of her, she was much loved by all her nephews!!
