“ I cannot put into words what your Dad meant to me. He was a great person. I remember the first time I met him at work coming to visit Shirley and bringing vegetables to her. I had mentioned I liked turnips and from that season on until he went into the VA he also seen I got my turnips. When I would stop by the house no matter how many times I had seen it he would always show me his garden, his wife Joyce would tell him " she seen it the last time" he would just go a head and show me anyway. Rest in peace my friend until I see you again.
