“ I remember going to Eric's house for my first work shift. He came up to me and grabbed my hand. From that point on every time I worked with him he would laugh and hold my hand. He was the absolute sweetest man I have ever met. His laughter and smiles brighten every work shift I ever had with him.

“ My first memory of Eric was the day I was working at ADT and passing out clothing protectors for lunch. I put one on him and he laughed and laughed. I did not know he had a stomach tube. (First day and all). Every time after that he would smile and laugh when he saw me. He will be missed.
