“ Gene has been my friend ever since we were kids. We were the same age and live only a block away in South Frankfort. We went to school together and played together and even got into trouble together but not too much, boys will be boys you understand. Gene had polio but never let that stop him. He ran and played just as hard as he could. Gene's heart was always as big as his dreams and he was a wonderful friend. After we grew up we only saw each other a few times but ever time was like we were never apart. Gene experienced a lot of pain during his life and his life was not easy to say the least. The last time we talked, we talked about God
