I would like to express my sincerest condolences to the entire family. I will never forget Henry with his passion for fishing and hunting. Even when he was fussing you always knew he loved you and the love shown to all his brothers and nephews and neices and all his family members was just amazing! Maerissa loved him very much and we will all miss him. But right now he is is probably in heaven fishing and enjoying his time with family members that passed before him.
