“ I have wonderful memories of staying with my "Aunt" Jessie and "Uncle" Tommy when I was a young girl. I loved everything about it, your little house, the white picket fence that has left me always wanting one myself, your flowers and garden, your animals (I still have pictures of Peanut, my favorite), and sitting up in bed to listen to the train come by in the middle of the night. Even though I was half scared it would run into the house.

While I am so happy that you two are united once again, I will truly miss getting to say hello and have our little chats. You both will always have a special place in my heart.

I hope you get to see my Granny when you are up there. I know she loved both of you very much.

*Love,
Debbie Redmon*

“ Jesse always had a smile on her face. I remember going to Faith right after having my daughter Brittany; she loved holding Brittany and always asked about Brittany thru the years. Jesse and I grew closer again after the death of my husband Darryl. I would go by her house for her to ride with me to the church for the widow's meetings.

I will always treasure the memories, and will miss her dearly.

May God strengthen the family thru this time.
