“ Christie and I were blessed to have the best Mom ever for as long as we did. I hope that you are proud that you have left the legacy of two strong, independent women like you were yourself. Our hearts now have holes in them that can never be filled but we feel your spirit and love with us always. I love you, Mommy, and miss you more than you could ever know. Love, Stacey

“ *I was a class mate of Joyce's from third grade through graduation of high school. We were good friends and I spent nights at her home while we were in grade school.
I was sorry I never got to see her at any of our reunions.
Although I never got to talk to her after graduation, I have thought of her and wondered how and where she was.
I remember her brother Jay, and her mother and father, who always went out of their way to make a shy girl feel welcomed in their home.
May God bless you with fond memories that will help you ease the burden of your loss.*
