

Lane Vincent Rogers

August 14, 1994 - December 15, 2025

Lane Vincent Rogers, 31, of Lexington, Kentucky, entered into rest on December 15, 2025.

Born on August 14, 1994, in Versailles, Kentucky, Lane was a beloved son, brother, uncle, and friend. A proud Kentuckian, he carried a deep love for his home state wherever life took him. Lane lived authentically, embracing his identity and encouraging others to do the same.

Lane attended Woodford County High School, where he was a member of the wrestling team, and later earned his GED. At the time of his passing, he was pursuing a degree at the University of Kentucky.

Lane's greatest passion was horses. Inspired by his mother, he returned to riding and rediscovered a deep love for them. He spent countless hours at the farm caring for, training with, and rescuing horses alongside his mother, girlfriend, and farm family. This passion reflected his deep connection to Kentucky—its land, its traditions, and the quiet moments that grounded him. It was the same connection that drew him to the state's music, arts, sports, and strong sense of community.

Lane loved to travel and spent much of the last decade on the move, with future trips already planned. He was especially drawn to journeys by train, cherishing the scenery and stories along the way. Travel also gave him the chance to follow the teams he loved, including the Los Angeles Rams. He loved food—anything from a big steak to a late-night Waffle House run—but more importantly, he valued the connections and memories created by sharing meals with friends.

Lane was preceded in death by his beloved dog, Bandit. He is survived by his mother, Kerry Lowary, and stepfather, Bill Klier; his father, Vince Rogers and his wife, Cyndie; his sister, Lyndsay and her daughter; his brother, Lucas, his wife Blair, and their four children; his girlfriend, Lauren Mansky; and his many cherished friends.

A private memorial service is planned for a later date.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Lane's memory to the Franklin County Humane Society at www.fchsanimals.org

Arrangements are under the direction of Harrod Brothers Funeral Home & Crematory.

Tribute Wall

GL

“ Glen lit a candle in memory of Lane Vincent Rogers

Glen - June 02 at 11:57 AM

YR

“ Yash Rajput lit a candle in memory of Lane Vincent Rogers

Yash Rajput - March 23 at 11:46 PM

YR

“ Yash Rajput lit a candle in memory of Lane Vincent Rogers

Yash Rajput - February 08 at 12:44 AM

TR

“ Although I did not know him well, we went to high school together and he, along with his family, were genuine, nice, and great people to be around. He will surely be missed.

Terra Roberts - January 17 at 01:34 PM

“ Tammie Tunnell lit a candle in memory of Lane Vincent Rogers ”

Tammie Tunnell - January 15 at 09:38 AM

YR

“ Lane,

I was fourteen when you crashed into my life like some random miracle. Late nights on my shitty laptop, scrolling too long, and there you were Cake Dates with Casey, the two of you covered in batter, laughing at nothing, Catch always photobombing with that goofy tail wag & helix era oh my god. You were the first person who made me believe it was okay to be loud & different. You didn't hide who you were. You didn't apologize for being bi, for loving whoever you loved..... You just existed big, bright, unapologetic and fourteen year-old me held onto that like oxygen. Now I'm twenty-four and you're gone. Casey's gone. Catch is gone. All three of you taken and I'm left with nothing but old photos that I stare at. That car picture the three of you is my FAVOURITE LANE!!!!

You should've had decades more more horses, more sunsets, more stupid jokes, more chances to be happy. More everything. I wake up some mornings and the first thing I think is he's really gone and it feels like a punch to the stomach. I miss your laugh. I miss the way you posted random shit and made it feel important. I miss knowing you were out there somewhere, living, being Lane.

I just want you to know I'm still here. Still thinking about you. Still crying over you. Still smiling at old pictures even when it hurts.

Rest easy, Lane :(You were never just a screen. You were home. Forever missing you.

Love you.

- one of your oldest fan from India

Yash Rajput - January 14 at 06:04 AM

YR

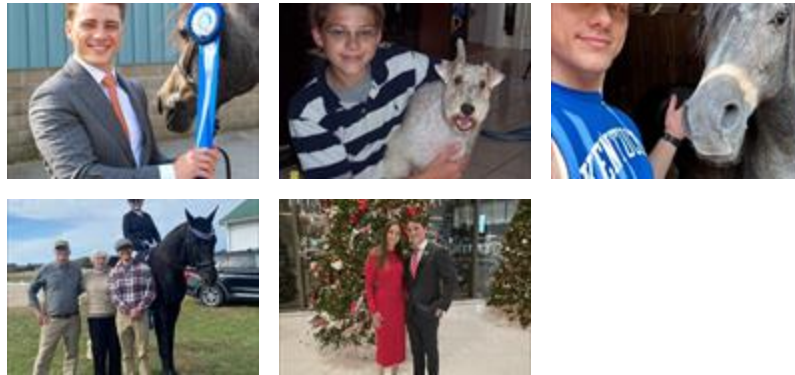

“ Yash Rajput lit a candle in memory of Lane Vincent Rogers

Yash Rajput - January 14 at 05:57 AM

KL

“ 6 files added to the tribute wall

Kerry Lowary - January 10 at 12:46 AM

Dear Mdm. Kerry, I am deeply sorry for your loss of Lane Rogers. He was truly a remarkable soul, and his kindness, warmth, and radiant smile touched so many lives. His presence and energy will forever be remembered by all who were blessed to know him. May he rest in power and peace.

Pam S Pam - January 12 at 05:19 AM