“ Having just lost our youngest daughter last year in a tragic automobile accident, we know the pain you are experiencing. The loss of our child is the hardest thing we have ever experienced. Our thoughts and prayers go out to you in this time of your great sorrow. We have found that keeping close touch with our other daughters and doing as many things together as possible has helped us to heal. In time, your wonderful memories of Nick will help to comfort you. He sounds like he had grown into a wonderful young man. I know our grandson, Patrick, enjoyed playing with him when they were young boys on Ferry Harbour. We lived behind you on the waterfront in Alexandria. May God bless you and your family and give you the faith and courage to heal. You are in our thoughts.

“ Words can't express how sorry I am for your loss. I have never meet your family or your precious son but I recently 12 weeks ago lost my only son in a car accident as well. There are no words that explain how you feel or the ache in your heart. I do know that God will carry you as he is carrying our family. I pray that God gives you the strength to see something beautiful in each day. I pray when it becomes hard to breath that God gives you the breath you need. Remember one second at a time. With Love in Christ

“ Kim - our hearts go out to you and your family. We remember Nick as a cute young boy in our neighborhood enjoying the outdoors and making friends and what a fine young man he grew up to be. His time here on Earth was too short-but he touched many people along the way..George still talks about Nick in speeches and he will forever be in our hearts. May you find strength in your faith, family and friends as we lift you up in prayer.God Bless, Susan & George Allen and family

“ Kim-Michael, Mike, Will and entire Harrod & Jacoby family, Eddie and I are so very sorry for the unthinkable loss of your dear, Nick. It breaks our heart that you must endure such sadness & can think of no comforting words for you during this time other than knowing you are loved by so many who are there to help heal your heart in some way. Hopefully, you can find some solace knowing you are not alone in your pain. Your loved ones are a phone call or arms length away. Allow them to ease your tears. My brother was a fighter pilot & killed in Viet Nam at 30 yr's of age- our loving family & friends were truly a godsend for my parents, sister & me. We hope you gain some strength through all the prayers & thoughts for your sweet, Nick. Eddie (and parents) have known the Harrod family since he can remember & considers Mike and Will as "friends"--his heart lays heavy over Nick's death. And, he is a phone call away. With Sincerity, Eddie & Noreen

“ Kim - I was so sad to hear of your loss. I know many words have been shared and I am at a loss for anything different other than the fact that I love you, miss you and please know my heart is breaking for you. I am here now and in the future. I wish we had kept in touch more. I would be there Tuesday, but we are on vacation. I was here when I heard the news and contacted Mike to get word to you that I was thinking of you during this time. I would love to spend some time together when you are ready.

“ Dearest Kim,

Words can't possibly express how sick Denny and I were to hear the incredibly sad news about Nick.

I have no words of wisdom as to how you go about dealing with this tragedy, but certainly you have so many people who care so much about you praying that you are able to do so. I do know, and I know you know, that the tremendous void and the gaping hole you have in your heart right now will eventually be filled with all the wonderful memories you have of Nick. And those memories will keep him alive forever for you and for all of us. While I can't imagine the pain of losing a son and a husband, I take comfort in knowing that he is in good hands in Heaven with God and Jake. You and Nick are in Denny's and my prayers.

With love and our deepest sympathy,
