“ I met Phil on my first day as a Primary Care Provider at KSR. His office was across from mine. I had brought homemade bread and country butter to help make friends. I popped across the hallway, introduced myself, and broke bread with Phil and Laura, his funny and kind dental tech. They took me under their wing, explained the way things should be done to keep myself safe. We had lunches together....all of us foodies and forged a friendship that continued even when we all left KSR. We stayed in touch on Facebook, shared recipes and favorite restaurants. I love Phil's stories from his childhood and funny anecdotes about his family. He was a true gentleman and those that were loved by him will keep his memory alive for an eternity. I pray you find peace, Chris....I will pray for you and his beloved Mom.

“ Dear Chris, I too am so so sad to hear this news. I will really miss our funny stories and conversations and even his southern cooking recipes when he visited his Holiday home. I was so hoping and praying he would get better. I will surely miss him. I will keep him and you Chris and his Mom in my thoughts and prayers. God Bless “ Phillip was truly a wonderful person. He was so much fun to go dancing with and every room he was in was brighter, more joyful and warmer because of him. Phillip will never be forgotten and he will be loved for eternity.

“ I have fond memories of Phil putting on this outrageous full length fur coat to go to the grocery store. Yes, yes we did. And stripping wallpaper at the house. Going out in Louisville and the many, many Cadillacs.

We all grow older and drift apart due to family obligations. But no matter when or where I would run into Phil, we would end up talking like we saw each other yesterday and would laugh and laugh.

My heart breaks for Chris, Lovey - everyone of Phil's friends he's leaving behind. I am bittersweet because we wanted you to be out of pain and at peace, but darn it, we're going to miss you here. You were one of a kind!

“ So very sorry Chris and Priscilla for your loss. I remember my childhood with Phil and us all playing in the side yard of his house on Louisville Road in Frankfort. I am really going to miss his stories, he truly had an incredible talent for writing. Fly high my friend 💔❤

“ So very sorry to hear of Phil's passing, He was a sweet friend to me when I transferred in to Frankfort High the February of my junior year way back in 1975. He befriended me though I was a couple of years older, making me feel welcome. We often lunched together in the gym with another friend I only remember as “Clara,” laughing and talking about everything. I adored Phil. He knew I didn't date and offered to take me to my senior prom because he knew I wanted to go. He was such a gentleman and made sure I had a lovely evening. Such a sweet, kind, funny, brilliantly smart boy! I have such fond memories of him and our time at Frankfort High. You will be missed, Phil. Love ya!
