“ Well Daddy, it has been 9 months since you passed and went to heaven to be with our Lord, your Mom (Mamaw) and your Dad (Granddaddy)! Everyone said the heartache gets easier, but I don't feel that way. I miss you so much!! I miss our talks and our laughing at the craziest things. I miss your advice. I miss you getting mad at me and making me cry, then instead of saying you were sorry you would say, "Jesse, you know you are still my girl!" And i would smile. The boys miss you so much. David graduated high school and is working at Best Buy for now but he will be going to college. And he is still dating Erin. She is so kind and beautiful! I am so proud of him and i know you are too. Tyler is in the 5th grade and is doing so good. He misses you so much. I still call him "peanut", like you did. And when i do he looks at me and smiles! He still carries your wallet around sometimes. I left your glasses on the coffee table. I refuse to move them. And tyler will pick them up and say, "papaw doesn't need these where he is at because he can see good now." He is such a loving and smart little man. And Taylor is like me. He has his days where we will sit and talk about you and cry for hours. Especially when i call him "little Robert". He is glad i named him after you. He is in the 4th grade and is so smart. There have been times when i see him crying and missing you and i will sing one of your funny songs you used to sing. And he will laugh and hug me. He says, "i miss papaw so much and I hate crying in front of people but i miss him!" I told taylor it is ok to cry whenever he needs to but that you are always around us. I know you are daddy. You watch over all of us and i thank you for that! Thank you for being a great Father to me and a great Papaw to my boys. For always taking me fishing and showing me patience while i sat very still and watched my pole. For always being there and listening to me. For being my shoulder to cry on. And for making me laugh. For letting me take care of you, i hope i did a good job! You got so mad at me for making you drink those ensures, but i wanted you to be healthy and stay with me. I have always been able to count on you and i miss that. For being my Mr. Fix It. I know you are in a wonderful place now!! But we miss you. I miss you and love you so much Daddy!! Thank you for being my hero!! You always were. And thank you for being my best friend.
